

Antique Parrefeuille Terracotta

Parrefeuille tiles were used throughout the southern part of France, and are unusual by their rectangular rather than square shape.

These tiles are hand selected by Paris Ceramics from the Languedoc region of France. Antique Parrefeuille tiles were handmade and fired in wood-burning kilns, a practice that ceased in the 19th century.

Made from local earth, roughly sieved, to give them their varied texture and beautiful pink and ochre tones, these tiles are up to 150 years in age.

Antique Parrefeuille tiles are approximately 20 x 35cm (8" x 14") x 2.3 to 3cm (1" to 1¼") in thickness, but can vary in size.

Product Specifications:

Length: 35 cm

Thickness: 2.3 to 3 cm

Width: 20 cm

Finishes: Antique Reclaimed

Product Applications:

Bathrooms

Commercial

Exterior Warm Climates (not frost resistant)

Floors

Hallways

Interior

Kitchens

Residential

Stairs

Swimmingpool Surround

PARIS CERAMICS

South Park Studios - Suite 10, 88 Peterborough Road, London SW6 3HH United Kingdom

Telephone: +44 (0) 20 7371 7778 | Fax: +44 (0) 20 7371 8395 | E-mail: info@parisceramics.com