

Grosvenor Blue - Cross Stitch

A range of British traditional ceramic tiles, available in four designs.

The inspiration for these contemporary designs have stemmed from fabrics found on the famous London street, Saville Row, known principally for its traditional bespoke tailoring for men. Shown in Blue and White, other colours are also available upon request. This stunning collection is handmade in the heart of the English countryside, our studio aims to produce hand painted tiles of the highest quality based on long-established techniques.
